HONDO SOLDIER ADMITS SIMMANG SLAYING; SCENE OF CRIME LAID IN MEDINA COUNTY

In a signed statement before army officials and local peace officers here, Pvt. William Lubarski, Hondo Air Base soldier, admitted the slaying of Warren I. Simmang, San Antonio youth and air field worker at Hondo, whose battered body was found in the Medina canal near Castrovilla last Wednesday morning. Lubarski is being held by military officers here. There was some question as to where the crime was committed, in Bexar or Medina County, the soldier admitting in his statement that it took place in a roadside park somewhere between Hondo and San Antonio. Wednesday afternoon, however, Lubarski was taken by Bexar and Medina County officers to every roadside park along the highway in both counties and the private pointed out as the scene of the slaying the park north of the highway just west of Three Point in Medina County. Sheriff Schuehl said the military authorities will be asked to order the man released to Medina County officers to be brought to trial in Hondo. As soon as custody of the soldier is secured a formal charge of murder will be filed, an examining trial held and the prisoner bound over until the grand jury sits in January.

In his statement, Lubarski said he was hitchhiking to San Antonio Monday evening when he was picked up by Simmang and drove with him to San Antonio, where they visited several eating places. On the way back to Hondo, the statement said, Simmang and the soldier got into an argument, while stopped at the road side park, and blows followed. He admitted hitting Simmang with something but he did not remember what it was. When he discovered the youth was dead, he placed his body in the trunk of the car and drove up and down the highway several times. He stopped at the canal bridge, took the body out of the trunk and dragged it into the water. He also took a purse from Simmang's pocket, got in the car and drove to San Antonio. He abandoned the car there, the statement continued, and after buying a change of clothes, he rode the bus back to Hondo Tuesday morning. Lubarski was apprehended after he was identified as the soldier seen with Simmang the night of the murder, and also as the man who borrowed money on a watch at one of the San Antonio eating places. His statement followed.

Lubarski, 22, was a truck driver before entering the Army and had a two-year education. He has been stationed at the Hondo air base since August 7th.

Commissioned a second Lieutenant, J. W. Hill of Hondo left Wednesday, September 2, for Miami Beach, Florida, for six weeks training at the Officers' Training School. On his return he will again be assigned to the AAF Navigation School in Hondo, where he has been an instructor since the school was activated.

Lt. Hill is a native of Edna, Texas, and a graduate of Rice Institute, Houston. He received his Master's degree from Texas A. and I. Kingsville. He served as Superintendent of the Yancey High School for four years, coming there from Corpus Christi. Last May, Lt. Hill resigned as Superintendent and took a special nine weeks' training course at Kelly Field, after which he became a junior instructor at the Army Air Forces Navigation School here.

In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. Hill purchased the former Barkuloo residence, the two-story house just north of Hondo High School, which they are making their home. Mrs. Hill and little daughter, Betsy, will remain here while Lt. Hill is in Florida.

NEWS NOTES From The Navigation School

LARGEST CLASS ARRIVES AT HONDO AS ANOTHER GROUP IS GRADUATED

AAF NAVIGATION SCHOOL, HONDO, Texas, Sept. 8.—The largest class in the history of aerial navigation began this week at the Army Air Forces Navigation School here the 15 weeks of intensive training that will qualify its cadets for navigator wings, lieutenant commissions, and a chance to chart the course of a flying fortress over enemy-held territory.

The new class arrived at the world's largest navigation school Saturday, Sept. 5, from Ellington Field, Houston, and moved into quarters evacuated by the class graduated last Saturday. The graduates who won their wings and commissions in ceremonies Saturday morning, were the second class to be graduated from the newly-opened navigation school here.

Lt. Col. G. B. Dany, director of training, made the graduation address. He was introduced by Lt. Col. John M. Hutchison, assistant director of training.

Following the graduation ceremony, the newly commissioned lieutenants conducted their first review of under-graduate navigation cadets and received their silver wings of navigators.

Lt. Col. G. B. Dany, director of training, delivered the graduation address and presented special awards to the graduating class. To Lt. Bernard J. Levine, Chicago, went the bronze Manchey-Marantz Memorial trophy, engraved with his name. This trophy is presented to the member of each graduating class with the highest scholastic honors. Lt. Daniel Weiss, Gary, Ind., received the La Roche silver trophy, presented to the graduating cadet with the second highest scholastic record.

Athletic awards were given to the three cadets placing first, second and third in the five event pentathlon athletic competition. The awards presented by Major Dale L. Harmon, commandant of cadets, went to Lt. Jack Reiter, New York City, first; Lt. T. A. Henry, Shortsville, N. Y., second; and Lt. Julius A. Stoermer, Victoria, Tex., third.

The newly commissioned lieutenants will be assigned to active duty soon. Some will take their place in the navigator's seat of giant U. S. bombers to chart the course of flying fortresses over enemy territory. Others will be assigned to training fields as instructors. Every three weeks a class is graduated and a new class arrives.

NEW CADET OFFICERS ARE SELECTED

Navigation Cadet William W. Townes, Carbondale, Ill., this week became cadet colonel of class 42-13 the navigation class that will graduate Saturday, September 26.

The selection of cadet officers is based on the cadet's proficiency in scholarship, athletic achievement and general all-round proficiency in training.

Cadet Colonel Townes succeeds

For the interesting matter found in this column, we are indebted to the AAF Navigation School's Public Relations Office. The personnel of this office as at present constituted is as follows:

Second Lieutenant Richard J. Purcell, Assistant Public Relations Officer.

Private William Jolesch.
Private Wallace W. Johnson.

the outgoing Cadet Colonel William J. Mitchell, Santa Barbara, Calif., who received his wings and lieutenant commission last Saturday.

Other new cadet officers are Cadet Lieutenant Colonel James R. Ivins, Crawford, Neb.; and Cadet Captains P. S. Warner, Detroit; W. S. Grant, Minneapolis; and J. E. Harelson, Tempe, Arizona.

AERIAL COMBAT CREW COOPERATION STRESSED BY COL. FREDERICK

That close cooperation between members of the aerial combat crew (pilot, navigator, bombardier, and gunners) is utmost for the success in a bombing mission was stressed by Col. Linus D. Frederick at graduation exercises of bombardier second lieutenants at Midland, Texas, or Sept. 3. Col. Frederick, commandant of the world's largest navigation school of the Army Air Force at Hondo, Texas, illustrated this point "One example of a common problem exists in the necessity for the bombardier and the navigator knowing the direction and velocity of the wind. The navigator in bringing his airplane to the vicinity of the target must of necessity have already determined the wind direction and velocity. The bombardier may use this information to present this data on his sight. This information may give the bombardier just enough help so as to make, under extreme conditions, the difference between a successful and an unsuccessful mission."

To the officers of the Dutch East Indies who were among the graduate-bombardiers, the Colonel gave highest tribute to their courage and great love for their country and the common cause for which the United Nations are now fighting.

In concluding his address to the newly commissioned men, Col. Frederick said, "A bombardier who only operates his bombsight and the navigator who only navigates, will not justify his being commissioned as an officer. Your task is much larger—you are a commissioned member of a combat crew—ask for and demand responsibility!"

COACH BRIDGES ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE

The Hondo Owls, tutored by Coach Tommie Bridges, open the 1942 season with a home game September 18, when they face the Devine Warhorses at Barry Field. With only two regulars returning from the past season and hampered by a wet field, Coach Bridges expects a tough time with the Warhorses.

September 25, the Owls were scheduled to meet Cotulla, but due to the fact that Cotulla has discontinued football, a new opponent is being sought. Coach Bridges hopes to fill the vacancy when the coaches from this section meet in San Antonio Wednesday night.

October 2, finds the Owls traveling to Carrizo Springs to meet a seasoned ball club. The Wildcats promise to give the Owls one of their hardest games on schedule.

October 9, the Owls meet the Pearsall Mavericks at Pearsall, another strong team. The 16th of October finds the Owls again without an opponent, San Felipe having voted to drop from the running. Coach Bridges hopes to fill this vacancy shortly.

Hondo football fans will witness one of the season's thrillers on October 30, when the Owls tangle with the Uvalde Coyotes in a home game for the Hondo club. Coach Pap Drennen brings a well balanced team from Uvalde. This will be the first District game.

November 6 and 13th find the Owls remaining on home soil when they meet Brackettville and the Del Rio Wildcats. The latter game or the 13th may give the Owls some hard sledding.

The game with the Yellow Jackets of Sabinal on November 20th closes the season for the Owls. This is another strong team worth watching.

Losing his entire line and with only seven lettermen returning, Coach Bridges is not too optimistic about his prospects for the coming season. At present his squad numbers about forty, but boasts only a few seasoned players among its ranks. Unable to locate an assistant coach, Bridges is handling the club alone. Even so Hondo fans will not be disappointed in the results of the season.

Anyone desiring season reserved seat tickets should write or telephone H. C. Richards within the next few days.

RAT KILLING CAMPAIGN TO GET UNDER WAY

Under the joint sponsorship of the Department of Interior and the Hondo Chamber of Commerce, a second campaign to exterminate rats in Hondo will get under way, according to information from Chamber Secretary R. C. Rath. There is a heavy infestation of the rodents and business houses are urged to cooperate in the effort to rid the community of the pests. Poisoned bait will be set out on Wednesday, September 16, left out for two nights, and picked up Friday. From previous experience in the first campaign six or seven months ago, this method of killing rats proved successful and most satisfactory.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

I see where there is no such a thing as an indispensable man. General Hershey says so—he runs the draft, you know.

We been told over and over, for years, that this guy or that guy was indispensable and the only living person to save the country. And with open mouths we took it in like a yokel at the country fair, and voted the gent into office.

The war has brought out a lot of debunking. You take bankers. More fingers have been pointed at bankers than at anybody, bpt bankers, they don't talk back much. They are busy, doing very little now except selling war bonds and stamps, and they don't make a nickel therefrom. It is even an expense to them. We been believing too much hoovey, and baloney, and bias about bankers. I move we give the Old Boys 3 cheers for a change—they been called a horse thief long enough.

But back to indispensable men. The ones who have claimed to be such, like Napoleon, and Caesar and that youngster Alexander, proved to have been menaces versus indispensable.

Yours with the low down,

JO SERRA

TAXATION CAN PRODUCE SOCIALISM

One of the worst phases of our present tax program lies in the inequitable and potentially ruinous burden it places upon the many basic industries which have not profited from war activity—and especially those industries which are stringently regulated by state and Federal commissions.

A brief recently submitted to the U. S. Senate Committee on Finance by representatives of the nation's independent telephone companies—which operate one out of every five telephones in the country—indicates what is happening. If proposed corporate income and excess profits taxes are adopted, a typical group of these companies will have a $4,500,000 operating deficit before they pay a penny of return to the holders of their common stocks. And that cannot be offset by increases in their charges to their customers. As the brief says: "Our rates and hence our income are determined by regulatory bodies. We cannot readily increase rates, even when costs of materials, wages and taxes are steadily rising. . . . As a matter of fact, increases in rates high enough to compensate for the proposed additional Federal taxes. . . are entirely impractical, since the greater part of any increases would go right back into additional taxes." It then observes that an increase in rates of about $10.00 would be needed to provide each $1.00 of desired increase in net income. What is true of these telephone companies is true of other service industries.

A fact that should not be overlooked is that ruinous taxation of industry amounts to a drive toward socialism. If industry is bled white by taxes, it will have to borrow money from government for necessary expenditures. Then government will become a part owner—which could easily be followed by complete government acquisition.

There is a vast difference between industries which are financially benefiting from war and which can at once adjust their prices and charges to changing conditions—and industries which are not benefiting from war and whose rates are regulated. That difference must be taken fully into account in our tax policy if we are to maintain private enterprise in this country—and if the millions of "little" people who have invested their savings in industrial securities are to be protected from tax confiscation of their savings.—Industrial News Review.

As a force in our government, writes Raymond Clapper, Congress is sliding down hill. It is endangered not by the press nor by the executive branch but by its own shallow incompetency. It fails to exert the real leadership that the nation must have in modern times. Congress has remained a collection of 2-cent politicians.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Tractors and motors will never wholly replace the Army Mule as a factor in the mobile units of our army. The Army Mule is a tradition and the "mule skinner" is a breed unto himself. Army Mules are used by the Field Artillery and the Cavalry in areas where the terrain is rough and tractors cannot operate.

Pack trains in mountainous sectors are often necessary and here the mule, slow but sure-footed, plays an important role. Our Army buys thousands of mules paying from $175 to $190 for each. The mule eats less, carries more, and some declare is smarter than the horse.
Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps helps pay for these Army
Mules. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day.

175 students in High School and 160

reported Monday.

HONDO, TEXAS, SEPT. 11, 1942

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

U. S. has WPB Chief Nelson to thank for some semblance of balance between war and civilian production. Despite a planned M-Day operating program which states that "throughout the duration of war, the nation must continue to provide all the material items upon which the health and well-being of its civilian population depend. War is no longer simply a battle between armed forces in the field"—armed forces would siphon off battle requirements and leave civilians standing in line for the crumbs.

As Director Nelson kept a weather eye on war and civilian "musts" and as war material production miraculously doubled and trebled in eight months, below decks termites toyed with social experiments and gnawed at organization foundations. Some house-cleaning is in order and the job will be bossed by a changed man who, knowing his opposition, will help to the line and ride the storm like the able captain he is.

Feeling that there is still too much fat in the national economy, the armed forces would undertake a "frying out" period during which they alone would direct critical materials. After such a period, a readjustment would be made to accommodate civilian activities. This is the basis of the differences between the thinking of the WPB Chief and that of the armed services. So long as Mr. Nelson retains his present authority over war production, however, there is little chance of the Army's taking over completely. Executive orders give him complete power and the Army has only that which Mr. Nelson delegates to it.

In all probability there will be considerable consolidation of functions in the lower WPB levels in order to more closely knit the administrative set-up. Decentralization of many functions which can be handled properly and expeditiously in field offices is likely. These include processing of small projects—PD-1A and possibly the new small PRP and LUMP (Limited Users Metal Plan), which will provide a counterpart for regular PRP but will be applicable only to firms using less than $5,000 worth of metals a quarter. The WPB Chief's disposition to chop off some heads is being applauded by the Truman Committee which, with the Murray Senate Small Business Committee, is displeased with the execution of the subcontracting program and watching critically every WPB move.

War Labor Board's future may hang on the Aluminum wage case. Because WLB rejected wage increase, workers threaten a strike which the Board is trying to avert. In this instance the Army might be reluctant to seize the plant.

Confusing and conflicting statements of selective service officials—harmful to the war effort—indicate an immediate need for a definite uniform policy for all local boards. A new directive to draft boards that will attempt to spell out what Congress had in mind in drafting the recent maintenance-of-family-unit order is being contemplated. Such clarification must not be delayed.

MUTED CHORDS

I cannot sing the song that fills my heart
Though its poignant beauty is of me a part.
Composed of moon beams, star dust, golden rays
That paint the sunrise, sunsets of my days.
The song is in the murmur of the stream,
In whispering autumn leaves that dance and gleam
With glowing colors in the mountain air,
And in the voice of Nature everywhere.
I hear it in the sea birds' plaintive cry
As they wing low against a wind-swept sky.
And in the ageless surging of the sea
The song is part of all Divinity.

—NELLIE MAY DORAN.

Mustering out today means somewhat more than carrying arms. Every farmer can make a definite contribution to national defense by merely staying at home and raising more food and feed to keep his family in good health.—Sallie F. Hill in The Progressive Farmer.

THE WAR

A summary of the past week's war events reviewed by The National Editorial Association Defense Advisory Committee in cooperation with the Office of Government Reports.

FOR RELEASE SEPT. 8, 1942.

President Roosevelt asked Congress to enact by October 1 legislation under which he would be "specifically authorized to stabilize the cost of living, including the price of all farm commodities." In a special message to the Legislators, the President said "Inaction on your part by that date will leave me with an inescapable responsibility to the people of this country to see to it that the war effort is no longer imperiled by threat of economic chaos. In the event that the Congress should fail to act, and act adequately, I shall accept the responsibility, and I will act."

Mr. Roosevelt said the purpose of the legislation "should be to hold farm prices at parity, or at levels of a recent date, whichever is higher." He said "At the same time that farm prices are stabilized, wages can and will be stabilized also. This I will do."

The President recalled that two points of his original Seven-point Anti-Inflation Program required legislation—"an adequate tax program, and a law permitting the fixing of price ceilings on farm products at parity prices." He said delay in enacting this legislation "has now reached the point of danger to our whole economy. . . . We cannot hold the actual cost of food and clothing down to approximately the present level beyond October 1. But no one can give any assurances that the cost of living can be held down after that date. . . . He renewed his request of last April for an individual net income limitation of $25,000.

The War Front
After ten straight raids without a loss, two U. S. Flying Fortress bombers were reported as missing September 7 following the greatest American aerial attack of the war on Nazi-occupied France. Three squadrons of the big bombers attacked the airframe factory at Meaulte, near Albert, for the second time, while a fourth squadron bombed the St. Omer Airfield. In the raids the Fortresses destroyed five enemy fighters and probably destroyed 13 more, and damaged another 25. The bombers were escorted by 400 Allied fighters, three of which were shot down.

Gen. MacArthur's Australian Headquarters reported September 7 that heavy Allied bombing planes attacked a Japanese cargo ship southeast of New Guinea which was believed to have been attempting to supply the trapped enemy forces in the Milne Bay area. Australians were mopping up the remnants of Japanese forces in this area. U. S. Army Air Forces in China, continuing their offensive, scored a direct hit on Japanese Military Headquarters in Nanchang, sank at least seven steamers, blasted a railway station and warehouse and strafed a troop train.

Two Navy vessels, the Destroyer Blue and the Auxiliary Transport Calhoun, have been lost in action in the South Pacific in the past two weeks, the Navy announced. There were few casualties. The Navy also announced the sinking of nine more United Nations merchant vessels by enemy submarines in the Atlantic.

War Aims and Foreign Relations
President Roosevelt, in an address broadcast to an International Student Assembly in Washington and short-waved to other parts of the world, stated the war is "going to be long and hard and bitter. . . (but) this time we shall know how to make full use of victory" to build a better world. He said the Government will see to it that men returning from the Fronts can resume their interrupted careers and education and that work is provided for those willing and able to work.

Reciprocal Lend-Lease aid to the U. S. already covers a range as wide as the requirements and geography of a global war, and is being provided to this country on the same basis as we are providing Lend-Lease help to other countries, the Office of War Information reported. Such aid is being provided without dollar payment under the terms of master agreements with countries receiving U. S. Lend-Lease help. Reciprocal Lend-Lease aid "for American Forces abroad" ranges from squadrons of Spitfires to new fan belts for Army trucks—from building air-dromes and Naval bases to 'D' ration chocolate bars and bananas at the soldiers' mess—from convoy protection for U. S. Troopships arriving in British waters to filling the gas tanks of U. S. Ferry Planes at airports newly laid out in jungles or deserts," the OWI said. The President announced a special U. S. Technical Mission will leave for Brazil soon to assist the Brazilian Government in expansion of its war machine.

Army and Selective Service.
Assistant Secretary of War McCloy said that between February 1 and August 30 U. S. Army planes destroyed 234 Japanese planes in the air, compared with American losses of 109. This record, together with the "Flying Tiger" record of 218 Japanese planes destroyed as against losses of 84, is due mainly to the performance of the P-40 Fighters he said. The Army said it has developed a system of technical inspection and maintenance supervision of aircraft that is undoubtedly the finest in the world. The War Department sent 36,000 dependents' allowance checks totaling $4,500,000 to relatives and dependents of enlisted men in the four lower grades of the Service. Selective Service Headquarters instructed State SS Boards to place their calls so that most men right now will come from Local Boards with the most single men or men with dependents other than wives and children.

Navy and Shipbuilding
Navy Secretary Knox said the submarine menace "is not by any means solved," but there has been a "steady deminution of ships sunk off our own shores." A shipbuilding compilation for Labor Day showed 174 launchings and 49 keel layings during the day for many kinds and sizes of combat and cargo ships. The Maritime Commission reported 68 vessels were put into service in August and there is "every indication" the goal of three completed ships a day will be reached in September.

Rationing
The War Production Board released 50,000 of the refrigerators which have been frozen in the hands of dealers and distributors since February 14 for sale to the general public after finding that they were not needed for "essential" purposes. Another 50,000 will be released by authorization of WPB for delivery to dealers and transfer to ultimate consumers. The WPB Food Requirements Committee recommended to the Board the following meat conservation program: (1) Limitation of the amounts of meat packers may sell to the civilian trade so that each civilian will be able to buy 2½ pounds a week; (2) Direct consumer rationing to be started as soon as possible—in about four months; (3) An interim voluntary conservation program.

Purchase of War Bonds
The Treasury Department announced sales of War Bonds in August totaled $697,255,000 in bonds through the ten percent payroll savings plan, compared with 18,000,000 persons and $200,000,000 in July. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced state War Bond quotas for September, totaling $775,000,000 for the country.

Taxation and Profits
The Treasury Department recommended to Congress a reduction in individual income tax exemptions to $500 for each dependent. The Treasury also proposed a ten percent tax on consumer spending and high penalty rates for luxury spending. At the request of Congress, the Treasury outlined a sales tax levied against the retailer who would pass it on to the consumer. War expenditures in August were $4,900 million, more than three times greater than the amount spent for National Defense a year ago. Income payments to individuals in July were 21 percent more than July 1941 and were at the record annual rate of $114 billion a year, the Commerce Department said.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Hitler found out that his high powered mechanized and motorized army bogged down in the snow and mud of the Russian Winter. Although our Army is largely mechanized the cavalry horse is still a highly essential factor in this mounted division and in the Field Artillery. The Army also maintains remount farms where many cavalry horses are bred and raised.

These select horses cost from $100 to $165 and our crack cavalrymen are expert riders and carry on the traditions which have followed the cavalry from the earliest days of the Army. Purchase of War Savings Bonds will insure good mounts for the Cavalry. You and your neighbors buying War Bonds and Stamps regularly every pay day can help buy these horses for the U. S. Cavalry. Invest at least 10 percent of your income in War Bonds.

BIG-TIME FOOTBALL GAME AT ALAMO STADIUM

San Antonio, Sept. 9.—Continuing its sponsorship of big-time college football, the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce announced its first big attraction of the season, a night game on Saturday, October 10th between Southern Methodist University and Hardin-Simmons University to be played in the beautiful Alamo Stadium.

The game will mark the first appearance of the traditionally fast tricky Southern Methodist football team in San Antonio, and with a fine team shaping up this year for SMU, sports fans are looking forward to the Alamo Stadium opener as a top-notch grid attraction. Hardin-Simmons, it is reported, will take the wraps off a tough and smooth-clicking aggregation in the October 10 game which gives real promise of power and offensive strength.

The large and enthusiastic following of both the colorful SMU Mustangs and the hardriding cowboys of Hardin-Simmons already are evidencing great interest in the game and a capacity crowd is anticipated. Chairman C. C. Krueger of the Chamber of Commerce Football Committee has urged early reservation of tickets. Tickets for the game are now on sale at the Municipal Auditorium, Potchernick's and Tankersley's in San Antonio, but persons wishing to purchase their tickets by mail should send their checks to the Football Committee, San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, Insurance Building, San Antonio, Texas.

Reservations will be handled in the order of their reception. Regular Southwest Conference football prices prevail with reserved seats priced at $2.50 and $1.65, general admission seats at $1.10, and general admission for members of the armed forces 50 cents.

STREET DANCE A SUCCESS

The Hondo Volunteer Fire Department is again loud in its appreciation of the response shown by the public to the street dance and carnival given here last Saturday night. A large crowd attended and the funds secured for the benefit of the Department were very satisfactory. The proceeds from the event will be determined at a meeting of the Fire Boys tonight (Thursday) and a financial report will be given in next week's paper.

Please ask yourself

"...WILL MY CALL DELAY A WAR CALL?"

A good time to think about the war is when you're starting to telephone. please decide if you possibly can...

A good thing to remember then is that war calls overcrowd the telephone system here. And that new switchboard and lines can't be built to meet this load, because copper and other telephone materials must go these days to arm the nation's fighting men.

So, in the interest of the war effort, you.

1. Not to call unless you must.
2. To make your calls short.
3. And to avoid if you can the busy hours from 9 to 11 a.m.

Any one of these decisions will help clear the way for important war calls. We know you'll be glad to help. Thank you.

War calls come first!

HONDO, TEXAS, SEPT. 11, 1942

Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

U. S. has WPB Chief Nelson to thank for some semblance of balance between war and civilian production. Despite a planned M-Day operating program which states that "throughout the duration of war, the nation must continue to provide all the material items upon which the health and well-being of its civilian population depend. War is no longer simply a battle between armed forces in the field"—armed forces would siphon off battle requirements and leave civilians standing in line for the crumbs.

As Director Nelson kept a weather eye on war and civilian "musts" and as war material production miraculously doubled and trebled in eight months, below decks termites toyed with social experiments and gnawed at organization foundations. Some house-cleaning is in order and the job will be bossed by a changed man who, knowing his opposition, will hew to the line and ride the storm like the able captain he is.

Feeling that there is still too much fat in the national economy, the armed forces would undertake a "frying out" period during which they alone would direct critical materials. After such a period, a readjustment would be made to accommodate civilian activities. This is the basis of the differences between he thinking of the WPB Chief and that of the armed services. So long as Mr. Nelson retains his present authority over war production, however, there is little chance of the Army's taking over completely. Executive orders give him complete power and the Army has only that which Mr. Nelson delegates to it.

In all probability there will be considerable consolidation of functions in the lower WPB levels in order to more closely knit the administrative set-up. Decentralization of many functions which can be handled properly and expeditiously in field offices is likely. These include processing of small projects—PD-1A and possibly the new small PRP and LUMP (Limited Users Metal Plan) which will provide a counterpart for regular PRP but will be applicable only to firms using less than $5,000 worth of metals a quarter. The WPB Chief's disposition to chop off some heads is being applauded by the Truman Committee which, with the Murray Senate Small Business Committee, is displeased with the execution of the subcontracting program and watching critically every WPB move.

War Labor Board's future may hang on the Aluminum wage case. Because WLB rejected wage increase, workers threaten a strike which the Board is trying to avert. In this instance the Army might be reluctant to seize the plant.

Confusing and conflicting statements of selective service officials—harmful to the war effort—indicate an immediate need for a definite uniform policy for all local boards. A new directive to draft boards that will attempt to spell out what Congress had in mind in drafting the recent maintenance-of-family-unit order is being contemplated. Such clarification must not be delayed.

MUTED CHORDS

I cannot sing the song that fills my heart
Though its poignant beauty is of me a part,
Composed of moon beams, star dust, golden rays
That paint the sunrise, sunsets of my days.
The song is in the murmur of the stream,
In whispering autumn leaves that dance and gleam
With glowing colors in the mountain air,
And in the voice of Nature everywhere.
I hear it in the sea birds' plaintive cry
As they wing low against a wind-swept sky.
And in the ageless surging of the sea
The song is part of all Divinity.

—NELLIE MAY DORAN.

Mustering out today means somewhat more than carrying arms. Every farmer can make a definite contribution to national defense by merely staying at home and raising more food and feed to keep his family in good health.—Sallie F. Hill in The Progressive Farmer.

THE WAR

A summary of the past week's war events reviewed by The National Editorial Association Defense Advisory Committee in cooperation with the Office of Government Reports.

FOR RELEASE SEPT. 8, 1942.

President Roosevelt asked Congress to enact by October 1 legislation under which he would be "specifically authorized to stabilize the cost of living, including the price of all farm commodities." In a special message to the Legislators, the President said "Inaction on your part by that date will leave me with an inescapable responsibility to the people of this country to see to it that the war effort is no longer imperiled by threat of economic chaos. In the event that the Congress should fail to act, and act adequately, I shall accept the responsibility, and I will act."

Mr. Roosevelt said the purpose of the legislation "should be to hold farm prices at parity, or at levels of a recent date, whichever is higher." He said "At the same time that farm prices are stabilized, wages can and will be stabilized also. This I will do."

The President recalled that two points of his original Seven-point Anti-Inflation Program required legislation—"an adequate tax program, and a law permitting the fixing of price ceilings on farm products at parity prices." He said delay in enacting this legislation "has now reached the point of danger to our whole economy. . . . We cannot hold the actual cost of food and clothing down to approximately the present level beyond October 1. But no one can give any assurances that the cost of living can be held down after that date. . . . He renewed his request of last April for an individual net income limitation of $25,000.

The War Front

After ten straight raids without a loss, two U. S. Flying Fortress bombers were reported as missing September 7 following the greatest American aerial attack of the war on Nazi-occupied France. Three squadrons of the big bombers attacked the airframe factory at Meaulte, near Albert, for the second time, while a fourth squadron bombed the St. Omer Airfield. In the raids the Fortresses destroyed five enemy fighters and probably destroyed 13 more, and damaged another 25. The bombers were escorted by 400 Allied fighters, three of which were shot down.

Gen. MacArthur's Australian Headquarters reported September 7 that heavy Allied bombing planes attacked a Japanese cargo ship southeast of New Guinea which was believed to have been attempting to supply the trapped enemy forces in the Milne Bay area. Australians were mopping up the remnants of Japanese forces in this area. U. S. Army Air Forces in China, continuing their offensive, scored a direct hit on Japanese Military Headquarters in Nanchang, sank at least seven steamers, blasted a railway station and warehouse and strafed a troop train.

Two Navy vessels, the Destroyer Blue and the Auxiliary Transport Calhoun, have been lost in action in the South Pacific in the past two weeks, the Navy announced. There were few casualties. The Navy also announced the sinking of nine more United Nations merchant vessels by enemy submarines in the Atlantic.

War Aims and Foreign Relations

President Roosevelt, in an address broadcast to an International Student Assembly in Washington and short-waved to other parts of the world, stated the war is "going to be long and hard and bitter. . . . (but) this time we shall know how to make full use of victory" to build a better world. He said the Government will see to it that men returning from the Fronts can resume their interrupted careers and education and that work is provided for those willing and able to work.

Reciprocal Lend-Lease aid to the U. S. already covers a range as wide as the requirements and geography of a global war, and is being provided to this country on the same basis as we are providing Lend-Lease help to other countries, the Office of War Information reported. Such aid is being provided without dollar payment under the terms of master agreements with countries receiving U. S. Lend-Lease help. Reciprocal Lend-Lease aid "for American Forces abroad. . . ranges from squadrons of Spitfires to new fan belts for Army trucks—from building air-dromes and Naval bases to 'D' ration chocolate bars and bananas at the soldiers' mess—from convoy protection for U. S. Troopships arriving in British waters to filling the gas tanks of U. S. Ferry Planes at airports newly laid out in jungles or deserts," the OWI said. The President announced a special U. S. Technical Mission will leave for Brazil soon to assist the Brazilian Government in expansion of its war machine.

Army and Selective Service.

Assistant Secretary of War McCloy said that between February 1 and August 30 U. S. Army planes destroyed 234 Japanese planes in the air, compared with American losses of 109. This record, together with the "Flying Tiger" record of 218 Japanese planes destroyed as against losses of 84, is due mainly to the performance of the P-40 Fighters he said. The Army said it has developed a system of technical inspection and maintenance supervision of aircraft that is undoubtedly the finest in the world. The War Department sent 36,000 dependents' allowance checks totaling $4,500,000 to relatives and dependents of enlisted men in the four lower grades of the Service. Selective Service Headquarters instructed State SS Boards to place their calls so that most men right now will come from Local Boards with the most single men or men with dependents other than wives and children.

Navy and Shipbuilding

Navy Secretary Knox said the submarine menace "is not by any means solved," but there has been a "steady deminution of ships sunk off our own shores." A shipbuilding compilation for Labor Day showed 174 launchings and 49 keel layings during the day for many kinds and sizes of combat and cargo ships. The Maritime Commission reported 68 vessels were put into service in August and there is "every indication" the goal of three completed ships a day will be reached in September.

Rationing

The War Production Board released 50,000 of the refrigerators which have been frozen in the hands of dealers and distributors since February 14 for sale to the general public after finding that they were not needed for "essential" purposes. Another 50,000 will be released by authorization of WPB for delivery to dealers and transfer to ultimate consumers. The WPB Food Requirements Committee recommended to the Board the following meat conservation program—(1) Limitation of the amounts of meat packers may sell to the civilian trade so that each civilian will be able to buy 2½ pounds a week; (2) Direct consumer rationing to be started as soon as possible—in about four months; (3) An interim voluntary conservation program.

Purchase of War Bonds

The Treasury Department announced sales of War Bonds in August totaled $697,255,000 in bonds through the ten percent payroll savings plan, compared with 18,600,000 persons and $200,000,000 in July. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced state War Bond quotas for September, totaling $775,000,000 for the country.

Taxation and Profits

The Treasury Department recommended to Congress a reduction in individual income tax exemptions to $500 for each dependent. The Treasury also proposed a ten percent tax on consumer spending and high penalty rates for luxury spending. At the request of Congress, the Treasury outlined a sales tax levied against the retailer who would pass it on to the consumer. War expenditures in August were $4,900 million, more than three times greater than the amount spent for National Defense a year ago. Income payments to individuals in July were 21 percent more than July 1941 and were at the record annual rate of $114 billion a year, the Commerce Department said.

WAR BONDS

Hitler found out that his high powered mechanized and motorized army bogged down in the snow and mud of the Russian Winter. Although our Army is largely mechanized the cavalry horse is still a highly essential factor in this mounted division and in the Field Artillery. The Army also maintains remount farms where many cavalry horses are bred and raised.

These select horses cost from $100 to $165 and our crack cavalrymen are expert riders and carry on the traditions which have followed the cavalry from the earliest days of the Army. Purchase of War Savings Bonds will insure good mounts for the Cavalry. You and your neighbors buying War Bonds and Stamps regularly every pay day can help buy these horses for the U. S. Cavalry. Invest at least 10 percent of your income in War Bonds.

BIG-TIME FOOTBALL GAME AT ALAMO STADIUM

San Antonio, Sept. 9.—Continuing its sponsorship of big-time college football, the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce announced its first big attraction of the season, a night game on Saturday, October 10th between Southern Methodist University and Hardin-Simmons University to be played in the beautiful Alamo Stadium.

The game will mark the first appearance of the traditionally fast tricky Southern Methodist football team in San Antonio, and with a fine team shaping up this year for SMU, sports fans are looking forward to the Alamo Stadium opener as a top-notch grid attraction. Hardin-Simmons, it is reported, will take the wraps off a tough and smooth-clicking aggregation in the October 10 game which gives real promise of power and offensive strength.

The large and enthusiastic following of both the colorful SMU Mustangs and the hardriding cowboys of Hardin-Simmons already are evidencing great interest in the game and a capacity crowd is anticipated. Chairman C. C. Krueger of the Chamber of Commerce Football Committee has urged early reservation of tickets. Tickets for the game are now on sale at the Municipal Auditorium, Potchornick's and Tankersley's in San Antonio, but persons wishing to purchase their tickets by mail should send their checks to the Football Committee, San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, Insurance Building, San Antonio, Texas.

Reservations will be handled in the order of their receipt. Regular Southwest Conference football prices prevail with reserved seats priced at $2.50 and $1.65, general admission seats at $1.10, and general admission for members of the armed forces 50 cents.

STREET DANCE A SUCCESS

The Hondo Volunteer Fire Department is again loud in its appreciation of the response shown by the public to the street dance and carnival given here last Saturday night. A large crowd attended and the funds secured for the benefit of the Department were very satisfactory. The proceeds from the event will be determined at a meeting of the Fire Boys tonight (Thursday) and a financial report will be given in next week's paper.

The many friends of Mrs. John N. Garner send their best wishes to this estimable lady while she is convalescing in the Santa Rosa in San Antonio. The report is that she has been greatly benefitted by this rest and will make rapid recovery. Mrs. Garner and our every wish is that she as secretary to her husband lead a strenuous life in Washington. As congressman and as Speaker and then as Vice President, Mrs. Garner gave her best energy and endeavor to assist her husband in his multitude of duties and was an invaluable help to him. She had an extended knowledge in many fields and saved her husband a vast amount of detailed work which he could never have attempted to but for her knowledge and help. On many occasions I have heard the Judge pay tribute to the wonderful assistance she rendered him as a public official.—H. P. H. in Going Around.

Please ask yourself

"...WILL MY CALL DELAY A WAR CALL?"

A good time to think about the war is when you're starting to telephone.

A good thing to remember then is that war calls overcrowd the telephone system here. And that new switchboard and lines can't be built to meet this load, because copper and other telephone materials must go these days to arm the nation's fighting men.

So, in the interest of the war effort, please decide if you possibly can...

1. Not to call unless you must...
2. To make your calls short.
3. And to avoid if you can the busy hours from 9 to 11 a.m.

Any one of these decisions will help clear the way for important war calls. We know you'll be glad to help. Thank you.

War calls come first!

Our country's armed forces through the Office of Education, have appealed to the secondary schools to offer instruction in pre-flight aeronautics. The boys and girls in the last two years of high school are to be given an opportunity to learn something of aeronautics, navigation, meteorology, and similar topics.

The aims of the course include the giving of instruction to boys and girls which will materially shorten the period of specialization training necessary for those who expect to participate in the nation's air program; to acquaint boys and girls with the jobs which are available in the field of aviation, the qualifications necessary to fill each job, etc.

an organization of enlisted men, will be activated at the AAF Navigation School with Capt. William K. St. Claire, Post adjutant, as commanding officer and Tech. Sergeant M. B. Salmond as acting band leader.

A group of 24 musicians from the Eighth Service Command, Fort Sam Houston, expected to report soon will bring the organization to its full strength. Rehearsals will commence immediately upon arrival of the group.

There will be five rehearsals each week, T/Sgt. Salmond said. The band will play daily at retreat and for all parades at the post, and will furnish music for dancing at the enlisted men's club.

Present membership of the 324th band consists of Sgt. Salmond, who has had 22 years of experience in musical organizations. He is the son of Malcolm Salmond, a cornet soloist in the late '90's, who was a member of America's first bicycle band.

Acting first sergeant of the band is Staff Sergeant Edward Cole, who transferred in grade from the 838th School Squadron. Sgt. Cole was formerly connected with the 23rd Infantry Band at Fort Sam Houston.

Cpl. Glen E. Wilson, who came to Hondo from Randolph Field, formerly played with Barney Rapp's orchestra before he joined the army. The other member of the band is Sgt. Arthur V. Wolfe.

COLUMNIST GIVES ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT TO NAVIGATION SCHOOL

Ed Sullivan, prominent columnist of the New York Daily News, recently sent a large supply of athletic equipment to the AAF Navigation School to be divided among the several squadrons on the field. Included in the shipment were baseballs, bats, mitts and boxing gloves. The enlisted men are truly grateful to Mr. Sullivan for this fine display of generosity and are all set for some real inter-squadron competition.

DIRECT ENLISTMENT IN ARMY AIR FORCES SOUGHT BY MANY MEN OF MEDINA, UVALDE

Mechanics and radio technicians are applying for direct enlistment in the Army Air Forces at the AAF Navigation School in Hondo at the rate of one a day. Since enlistment opportunity was announced ten days ago, ten men from Uvalde and Medina counties have applied, Captain E. G. McLemore, technician procurement officer, reported this week.

First to enlist was Edward E. Bowlin, Uvalde rancher, a former sewing machine and auto mechanic Bowlin applied for direct enlistment the day following the announcement and he was accepted immediately.

Nine others have submitted applications, and are taking qualification examinations. Capt. McLemore has said. They are: Zeke P. Herrera and Pedro Amaya Leos, Sabinal; Chester Merlin Balzen, sheet metal worker, Hondo; Louis C. Richter, radio operator and mechanic, and James A. Wolff, both of D'Hanis; James O. Bassett, Arlyn M. Covington, J. T. Wilks, and Ewald B. Schomburg, all of Devine.

Of those who apply for enlistment at Hondo, many will be reassigned to fields in this training center. Capt. McLemore announced. Following induction, they will be given basic military drill and then assigned immediately to mechanics and radio technician tasks.

The Army Air Forces have urgent need for men with experience in the following fields: radio mechanics and operators, welders, metal workers, armorers, and mechanical work. Quick promotion and good pay is an immediate prospect for those who show mechanical aptitude, Captain McLemore continued. The men will be assigned to maintenance of the training ships at the various Army Air Forces flying schools.

This is the first time since the U. S. entered the war that mechanics and radio operators have been able to enlist direct into the Army Air Forces. The opportunity will continue for a limited time only.

Those desiring to enlist as mechanics or radio mechanics are requested to contact Captain McLemore at the AAF Navigation School, Hondo, by mail, or by phoning 417 at the Navigation School.

WAR STAMP CORSAGE FOR MILADY IS CUSTOM AT NAVIGATION SCHOOL

Something new has been added to war stamp and bond sales drive here at the AAF Navigation School. War stamp corsages is the vogue—each corsage is composed of 9 ten-cent war stamps on attractive green stems ... all made up into a neat cellophane corsage for milady. A good deal ... 90 cents of war stamps for a dollar.

Under the direction of Capt. T. F. Staudt, war bond officer, $5.00 worth of corsages is being sold to each squadron and organization on the post. Then ... When a member of the squadron wishes to present a corsage to his lady-fair, he purchases a patriotic war-stamp corsage, and presto—he makes a hit!

The popular Chicago Service Men's Center started the whole thing, and now it is starting to go like a prairie fire throughout the country. Chicago alone, it is reported the sale of war stamps was boosted 5,000 per cent by this idea.

First to purchase one of these war stamp corsages here was Cpl. J. E. Keating, 847th School Squadron who got his from Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, wife of the "windy city" mayor.

HONDO NAVIGATION SCHOOL TO ASSIST MEDINA AND UVALDE COUNTIES SCRAP METAL DRIVE

Trucks from the AAF Navigation School this week began the collection of nearly five tons of scrap metal from Hondo and its immediate vicinity.

Collections of the scrap metal will continue, navigation school officials have announced, until all of the 30 tons of metal in Medina and Uvalde counties has been brought to the field at Hondo.

The metal is being contributed to the war effort by residents of both Medina and Uvalde counties. Reports of the location of salvageable amounts of scrap metal were made to Medina County AAA Agent, R. B. Burden, Hondo.

As soon as the metal is collected it will be sold to dealers, and the cash from its sale will be allotted for war purposes. The metal will find its way, eventually, into vital war production.

Salvage officer in charge of the metal collection is Lt. Donald F. Halfpenny, who was appointed by Lt. Col. Paul L. Carroll, post quartermaster.

ticians who could serve well enough in simpler days. But the ignorance and provincialism of Congress renders it incapable of meeting the needs of modern government. Consequently the center of gravity has shifted toward the executive branch.

Never was there such need for intelligent and informed debate on public affairs. People are looking to editorials, radio commentators and newspaper columnists for the discussion of public affairs that they ought to get from Congress. Not the newspaper columnists but Senators and Representatives should be developing and leading the thinking of the country at this time.

Our problems were never so worthy of earnest thought and discussion. The people are hungry for it.

Never has Congress had such a chance to make itself a great national forum of discussion. Our supreme debating forum should be Congress
